Joy for Everybody is to Be Found at Sells-Foto Circus

ad Zu • Zu Zu •

It's summer, for the Sells-Floto Circus is on its way here. Fair flowers smile up from the cavernous depths to the dome-like height of the huge tent and nod toward the arena. Now and then they ripple as in a strong breeze. It matters not what the weather is, there is sunshine within the big Sells-Floto tent. Yes, whatever the season elsewhere, it is summer at the Sells-Floto Circus.

mer at the Sells-Floto Circus.
Butterfly bows, pink and blue and from bobbing little heads. Spotless turndown collars refect the shining cheeks above them. Eyes, violet and gray, brown or black, are drawn as by magic and held as though they could not escape by the huge stage. Never did grown-up concentrate more intensely upon his task. The performance is punctuated now and then by the sweetest sound on earth, the laughter of children.

For, know you, the flowers are the faces of children. The ripple is the movement of their small bodies in a gale of excitement.

This is the reign of the children, for a circus is coming to town, coming to stay for one whole day and great is the joy in childhood land. The a big voice announces the unique wonder of the next act, the lad pulled at his father's sleeve;

"Who's it?" he demands.

It is a time of gracious deeds. A small girl with forget-me-not eyes and sun-colored hair is upon her mother's knee that she might better see the performance of the elephants. She gurgled her delight at the slight.

As the orchestra plays the exit march there is a soft undertone to the music—small staccato notes surpassingly sweet. They are the children's chorus of gratifude. chorus of gratitude.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creany lather, cleaness thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh kooking, bright fluifly, wavy and easy to handle. Besidea, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and
